Christina Brown wins third consecutive Fair grand aggregate

Christina Brown took home the lion's share of awards from the 1996 Elk Point and District Agricultural Society Fair this past weekend, winning the Baking, Canning, Knitting / Crochet / Weaving and Seniors sections, on the way to her third consecutive Grand Aggregate win. She accepted a plaque presented by Gail Havener of CJ Petroleums, and a cash award from Norcen Energy Resources.

Lois Yaremkevich was first runner-up for the Aggregate, winning the award sponsored by Pan Canadian Petroleums, with Katherine Shymkiw the second runner-up, for an award from Golden Loaf Bakery.

The Fair attracted a few new exhibitors, which helped to offset the gap left by two perennially major exhibitors, who were in Europe with the Community Choir and missed this year's Fair. Chairperson Verona Lea Flanders said the total count was down 20 entries from 1995.

Lyn Young, convenor of the Baking section (sponsor - Elk Point Co Op), said entries there were down slightly, as was Canning (sponsor - Empress Family Restaurant), convened by Lois Yaremkevich, with 114 entries this year as compared to 136 last year. The Seniors section, convened by Diane Young and sponsored by Irene Magnusson, had exactly the same amount of entries as last year, although there were a number of new exhibitors. No statistics were available on the Knitting / Crochet / Weaving section, convened by Ellen Seward and sponsored by the Toronto Dominion Bank.

Entries were up from 67 to 95 in Photography, sponsored by Home Town Grocers, and convened by Lillian Demchuk, who also won that section and was very pleased with the fine display. The Junior Fair, convened by Gisele Pedersen and sponsored by Wagon Wheel Ranch, took a huge jump, with a total of 377 entries displayed and Kirsty Lindquist as section winner. Another big jump was in the Creative Writing, convened by Vicki Brooker and sponsored by the Elk Point Review, which had 37 entries this year and 20 last year.

Arts, Crafts and Hobbies also enjoyed a big increase from 34 to 59 entries, and convenor Gerry Lee hopes to double that number next year. Verona Lea Flanders was the winner in the section which the judge praised for the workmanship and creativity of the entrants. The section is sponsored by Elk Point Insurance.

Grain and Hay, convened by Glenn Flanders and sponsored by Terry Wozniak Bulk Sales, also almost doubled its entries from 1995, with several new contributors, but the same winner as last year: Brett Flanders.

Vegetables, convened and won by Katherine Shymkiw and sponsored by Phil's Hardware, increased slightly from 104 to 114 entries.

Not all the sections were so fortunate. Fresh Fruit, convened by Cecile Sadowinski and sponsored by Woody's Trophy and Gift, was down to half of last year's entries. Lyn Young was the winner.

Flowers was down by 8 entries to 84, but the quality was "just super good," according to convenor Millie Orr, who presented the award from the Cutting Edge to Katherine Shymkiw.

House Plants, convened by Maryann Kozicky, was down in entries due to some of their usual exhibitors being away, but still offered an excellent selection. Rose Kozicky was the winner of the Sunshine and Pedersen Buslines award.

Chamber to host Value Added meeting

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is joining with St. Paul/Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation and Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development to give area residents interested in food processing or value added agricultural product processing an opportunity to possibly realize their dreams.

A public meeting has been set for 7 p.m. on Wednesday, August 21, in the Empress Banquet Room to explore the possibilities of capitalizing on the food production capabilities of the region. The meeting is being organized as a direct result of recent food processing workshops sponsored this spring by the Northern Alberta Development Council in north-east Alberta.

The purpose of the meeting is to try and reach people in the area who might have an interest in or a dream about further processing some locally produced agricultural product. "We want to reach those people currently involved in some form of food processing," said Kathleen Ozmun of Alberta Agriculture. "We also want to reach those who may just have a dream that some day it might be nice to try and commercially produce that relish, jam, cheesecake or other product that so definitely pleases all visitors who give it a try."

"Prospective food processors face a multitude of challenges in taking a product from home kitchen to commercial production and marketing," added BCDC manager George Rife.

"We want to explore these dreams and look at the challenges we all face in trying to realize them. Then we can cooperatively develop an approach to providing the support services which will be needed to build a viable food processing industry in this region."

Chamber concerned with lost business

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is concerned that shoppers are going out of town to fill their hardware needs since the fire at Phil's Hardware in late July. Those in attendance at the Chamber's August 7 meeting noted that many of these products are still available at other businesses in Elk Point.

For example, Stedmans is part of the same chain as Tru Value, and can order in hardware items for their customers. Vincent Lumber has a good line of paint and building hardware in stock, and can bring in other items from their Bonnyville store, while sporting goods are available at Quality Tools and Equipment. Shoppers are urged to check out these options.

The Chamber discussed sponsorship of a food processing meeting, in conjunction with St. Paul/Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation, Sewing section entries were also down slightly, with the award from Capitol Drugs going to Verona Lea Flanders and the junior award from Cheri Lindquist won by Kirsty Lindquist.

A highlight of the Fair was a display of beautiful quilts, some antique and some created this past winter as a joint project of local quilters, who each completed a row of the "Trip Around the Block" quilts and passed them on to the next quilter on the list.

Special thanks went to Pete Andrishak and Elan Energy, who made donations to the fair, as well as to all the workers involved in putting the event together and to all the exhibitors whose entries made the event a big success.

TRIP AROUND THE BLOCK QUILTS showed what the cooperative efforts of the community's best quilters can produce. A variety of designs made these a collection of truly unique quilts exhibiting a wealth of local talent.

ONE PERFECT ROSE -- is all it took to win the Tea Rose category in the Flowers section of Elk Point. This exquisite beauty, shown by Lyn Young would be very hard to equal.

and decided to hold the meeting on Wednesday, August 21 at 7 p.m. instead of their regular Chamber meeting that day. The next regular Chamber meeting will be held September 4 at 12 noon.

The Chamber's Heart of the Lakeland delegate noted that attendance at these and the Midwest Tourism Group's meetings involves missing a day's work and travelling a lengthy distance. The Chamber was asked to consider paying at least mileage, if not an additional honorarium, for these delegates. This matter will be discussed further on September 4.

It was also brought to the Chamber's attention that 1997 will mark the 90th anniversary of the arrival of the first wave of pioneer settlers in the area. This will also be discussed at a later meeting.

Gossip — a free word or two

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

Gossip is something we all have been involved in, in some way — either on the listening or the spreading part. We all know it is dangerous as it can hurt as it may distort the truth. It usually is about someone we know, or someone we think we know. Anyway, I have an expression I use — "When in doubt, go to the horse's mouth." I want to hear the truth from the person him or her self.

Gossip not only applies to information about individual people, it also applies to anything of any topic we want to talk about. For example, if I told you that nine times nine was eighteen, and you trusted me — you would believe me, right? Then you would go and tell others — right? But if you didn't believe me, you would try and think of a nice way to tell me I made an error... you reversed your number — nine times nine is eighty one, not eighteen. This may be a silly example, but it is an example that is so very obvious, it makes a point. Before information is shared, we need to make sure it is accurate.

Since summer is almost over, and fall is almost here, there are many changes that may have happened over the summer that may affect our lives in the fall. People move out of the community and new people move in. People lose their jobs, and some people get new jobs. What a great time to gossip.

To the people who have left, or are leaving our community, instead of gossiping, let's talk to these people. We can thank them for all the good they have brought to our community during the time they spent here, and we could wish them the best in their new community. Or, maybe they are choosing to stay in our community — changes in their lives have taken place — let us be good neighbors and support them in any way we can. Goodbye, gossip — let's talk to the people themselves.

I found a poem that sums up what should happen when we are tempted to gossip.

THREE GATES

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale to you someone has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.
These narrow gates: First, "Is it true?"
Then, "Is it needful? In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
And last is narrowest, "Is it kind?"
And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

-- From the Arabian

Bensmiller fourth in WPCA

Rain forced cancellation of two of four days of the World Professional Chuckwagon Association's championship meet in Strathmore, August 2 to 5. No date for completion of the show has been set to this time.

Going into the show, Dewberry's Buddy Bensmiller was sitting in sixth spot, 32.5 points behind leader Jerry Bremner. Bensmiller narrowed the gap when he clocked the best time on August 2, and second on August 4. This brought him to fourth place overall, just 11 points behind Norm Cuthbertson, who edged ahead of Bremner in the two nights of racing. Kelly Sutherland currently sits in third spot.

TIC talk

We've got some questions, too

By Sherry Pelech
Tourist Information Clerk

We have been watching more TV this summer than we usually do. With the 'interesting' weather we are having this year, who wants to go outside — or to the lake — or travelling? (Actually, who even wants to get out of bed?) So why not watch television and catch up on all the programs you didn't have time to watch last winter? Which brings up some interesting questions.

The main one, of course, being — If you only watched 'Friends' once all last season, how come when you sit down to watch a re-run, it is always that very episode they want to show you?

But there are other questions of burning importance. Like...

During the Olympics, when you see 800 lb. weight-lifters stomp out on stage and you hear the commentators say things like "Wait 'til you see this jerk!" how come they are allowed to live?

When the scientists are all excited about the Martian maggots (who are quite possibly the intellectual equals of large portions of our society) they found in the meteorite from Mars that landed on earth 13,000 years ago, how do they know it came from Mars? They never tell us things like that.

When all of the United States is celebrating Michael Johnson as 'the fastest man on earth,' what have they done with Canada's Donovan Bailey? Sent him to Mars on the meteor's return trip? Maybe he's walking on air, as he well deserves to do, and is technically not 'on earth'?

Which is more offensive? Nike shoe commercials that say "You don't win silver, you lose gold" or two American silver medallists, draping themselves in the American flag and saying "We weren't beaten, we were just second."

People who have visited us in the TIC (Tourist Information Centre) may have seen a poster on the wall saying:

RATE SCHEDULE

Answers which require thought.....$2.00
Correct answers.....$4.00

Dumb looks are still free

With that in mind, come on over to the TIC and we'll discuss all these questions and more — for a fee (or a dumb look).

However, tourist information (except for the $1.49 Alberta road maps) is still free. But you must hurry: Saturday, August 17 is our last day of operation for this year.

We still have BC and Saskatchewan maps, as well as Saskatchewan Vacation Guides, Alberta accommodation and campground guides and lots more information on various destinations. (Sorry, no BC or Saskatchewan accommodation guides left.)

Come in and see us before we close for the season, and get the information you need for your fall travels.

Nutrition Notes

Breakfast - what's the big deal?

By Julia Painchaud
Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

The term "Breakfast is the most important meal of the day" has probably reached your ears before. Well, it's true, and here's why. Breakfast breaks the fast between supper and lunch the next day. Breakfast provides the energy needed to get our bodies going in the morning.

Studies show that people who eat breakfast are more alert and productive at work and school because their brain and body have the necessary energy to perform.

Eating breakfast helps with weight loss and weight control too. How, you ask? Having breakfast helps to keep our metabolic rate up and helps to prevent cravings later in the morning for high fat/high sugar foods (ie. doughnuts, pastries, candy, chocolate bars). It is beneficial to spread our intake of food over the whole day instead of increased food intake later in the day. Breakfast helps to spread out our food intake.

Ideas for breakfast:

- whole grain breads, whole grain cereals
- low fat muffins
- bagels
- fruit or fruit juice
- low fat yogurt
- skim or 1% milk
- egg, low fat cheese, peanut butter
- cereal bars
- pizza
- sandwich

If you are not used to eating breakfast, start with something quick and easy (ie. a piece of fruit) and progress from there. Breakfast really can make a difference.

Faith

What in the world is going on?

By Rev. Sam Donaldson
Elk Point Christian Community Church

We are glued to our TV as we listen to the news. Was the downing of the 747 off the shores of New York an act of terrorism? Who is responsible for the pipe bomb in Atlanta city? City violence, youth crimes and lawlessness in general are on the rise. America, Middle East, Britain and Canada are all touched by this wave of terror, violence and crime.

Why is it happening? What is causing the turmoil? Fingers are pointing in various directions. Some see it as a social problem. Others are convinced it is an economic problem. Is it a lack of a firm hand in our justice system? Do we blame the politicians or parents?

There is no doubt that any, and perhaps all, of these are a contributing factor, but none of them is the root cause of the world's situation. That is why humankind is unable to fix the problem. We are all looking in the wrong direction and seeking to apply the wrong remedy.

The world's problem is not a social, economic or political one. It is an ethical problem. The root cause of all our woes is sin, and we are all part of the problem. Rom.3:23

The solution is a divine one. It rests in the hands of God. God has already taken steps to correct the sin problem. This He has done through the redemptive work of Christ on the cross.

Faith in the Son of God as Saviour and Lord makes a person a new creation. 2 Cor. 5:17/ This work of regeneration sets in motion sanctification, a progressive work of holiness wrought by God the Holy Spirit. This sanctification will terminate in glorification, that is total perfection, on the resurrection day.

So, what in the world is going on? Sin is at work. Man is unable to correct it. God is at work calling out, and perfecting, a people for himself, and one day sin will be removed from God's creation. A new heaven and a new earth will replace the present fallen creation. Will you be there? Christ is the way — the true way — the only way. Jn. 14:6.

Grand Openings the grandest ever

Business is booming in Elk Point, and the six businesses who joined in a gala grand opening celebration this weekend can attest to that fact.

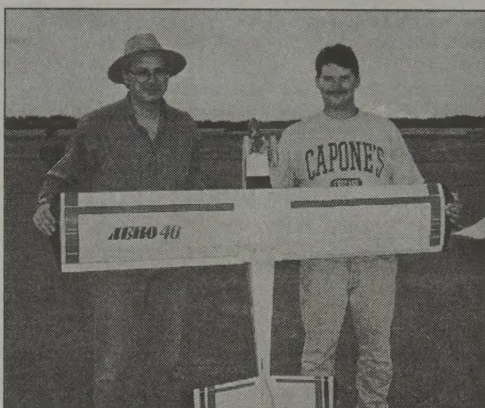

Door prizes, free refreshments and a grand prize draw were all on the agenda as Ace Pizza and Grill, Flower Fantasy, In Days of Olde, Elk Point Liquor and Cold Beer, Kelly's Closet and Pioneer Radio Control invited the public to see just what these new businesses have to offer shoppers.

Watch next week's paper for a full list of winners and a photo of the sixth new business.

FLOWER FANTASY -- is owned and operated by Gabe Bayduza, who is enjoying her new career in flower arrangement.

PIONEER RADIO CONTROL is operated by Brian Moneta and Jody Lecopoy, who showed off some of their planes at the R/C airstrip.

KELLY'S CLOSET is run by a mother - daughter duo, Sherry (right) and Kelly Oszust, who offer a great line of fashionable jean wear.

NEW AT IN DAYS OF OLDE is Tara Nielsen, who recently took over the business and added some special touches of her own.

ELK POINT LIQUOR AND COLD BEER was a cool oasis on a very hot weekend for owners Bert and Bev LaFrance.
